

TAX BOARD ASSESSING ENDS FOR YEAR

Advice received from the state capital indicates that the incomplete task in the office of the state board of tax commissioners indicates that the valuation of property assessed by the board will not vary far from the 1919 total.

The board closed its 1920 assessing session Monday. Prediction was made that the total would vary perhaps less than $10,000,000 from the 1919 totals, and that it might be higher or lower.

The 1919 assessment of the year before was more than $500,000,000, but that was because all valuations of the state were raised to the 100 per cent basis under the new tax law.

This year the board has reduced certain parts of the railroad and interurban assessments and increased a few number of farms. It is possible that the railroad total may be a little less and that the interurban total will be possibly $20,000,000 less.

The basis of assessment of railroads, however, was the same as last year, the board's position on this being strengthened by the report of Charles Martin, master in chancery in the federal court, who in the Chicago & Erie case upheld the basis followed by the board.

County boards of review will begin their sessions June 7, and the three members of the state board will spend some time visiting them. A number of agents for the board also will work with the counties.

Chairman Fred A. Sims will have the part of the state generally north of Terre Haute and west of a line from Columbus to Elkhart. Phil C. Zuercher, another member, will have the territory east of the Columbus-Elkhart line, and S. N. Cragan, the third member, will have the southern part of the state.

Appeals for rehearings on assessments filed by the board at its session closed Monday must be filed with the board before June 26. Briefs rather than personal appearances are preferred, because of the time taken up by personal appearances. Notices of the amounts the various corporations have been assessed by the board will be mailed out this week.
